Principles of Reckoning

<https://reckoningwithracisminnursing.org/>

1. Claiming the courage to join through the experience of building our anti-racist capacity in nursing.
2. Cherishing the contributions and honoring the voices of Black, Indigenous, Latinx, and other Nurses of Color, and yielding the floor to those voices throughout our time together.
3. Recognizing that we cannot move forward without a deep understanding of Black, Indigenous, Latina/o, and other nurses of color experiences with racism.
4. Recognizing that the insights and recommendations of Black, Indigenous, Latinx, and other nurses of color are vital to ground our thinking and to guide our actions.
5. Pledging to listen deeply and with respect to any and all expressions of anger, rage, despair, and grief arising from racism.
6. Committing to heal those harmed by racism.
7. Committing to challenge, resist, and end the voices and actions that sustain white privilege.
8. Seeking to nurture authentic anti-racist awareness.
9. Inspiring and nurturing action, as we boldly claim an anti-racist identity for nursing.
